As leaders of the four historically African American sororities, we are united in our belief that Sorority Sisters, which stand Monday, December 12, 2016 on VH1, poses a shameful affront to our proud legacies of service, scholarship and sisterhood.

For more than a century, Alpha Kappa Alpha Sorority, Incorporated, Delta Sigma Theta Sorority, Incorporated, Zeta Phi Beta Sorority, Incorporated, and Sigma Gamma Rho Sorority, Incorporated, have been at the vanguard of positive social change and served as repositories for women with shared ideals.

As such, we are saddened by the producers' desire to elevate harmful, negative, and stereotypical imagery of African American women in their quest for ratings. Moreover, these cast members willfully misrepresent the ideals of our African American organizations, betray the privilege of membership bestowed upon them, undermine our collective promise to uplift communities and each other, and detract from the transformative programs carried out by our members worldwide. This cast, these plotlines and the entire show promote a negative and degrading image of African American women, sorority sisters and friends.

On behalf of Alpha Kappa Alpha Sorority, Incorporated, Delta Sigma Theta Sorority, Incorporated, Zeta Phi Beta Sorority, Incorporated and Sigma Gamma Rho Sorority, Incorporated, we condemn this television show for its exploitation and degradation of our organizations and African American women everywhere.

It is our collective desire that VH1 carefully consider the qualifications of each irresponsible programming that continues to exploit and degrade the image of African American women. Our members along with many other members of black fraternal groups have lost confidence in the credibility VH1 and those advertisers that support the show, all of whom have already been notified of our discontent. Our sincere hope is that VH1 is interested enough in regaining this confidence of African American women and do what is deemed just and essentially sound for their network by immediately and indefinitely pulling this disgraceful show from their lineup of programming.

As with any issue for which we are passionate, we encourage all of our members, their families and friends to continue to let their voice be heard via social media, email, and postal mail to both VH1 and the advertisers of Sorority Sisters to ensure that our collective record of service and dedication is not marginalized on national television. Our organizations, along with our respective legal counsels, are taking all appropriate steps to ensure that we protect the legacy of our organizations, while exhibiting true sisterhood by remaining steadfast to our values, mission and endeavors.

Honorary Membership is a very special privilege the Grand Chapter of Delta Sigma Theta Sorority, Inc. reserves for a woman who has singularly achieved national distinction in a given field. Published: October 29, 2021 Recommendation letters and references forms are not required to participate in Formal Recruitment at Georgia Southern University. Letters of recommendation and reference forms serve as a helpful tool in introducing a potential new member to the sorority and allows the sorority members an opportunity to get to know you in advance of formal recruitment. It is important to keep in mind that these letters and forms are not required to participate in the recruitment process and neither of these will guarantee a potential new member an invitation to events during recruitment week nor does it guarantee her membership in that sorority. These official forms are specific to each individual sorority. An alumna or collegian member will be able to find a copy of her sorority's official recommendation letter format or reference form in either her sorority's national magazine or on the sorority's national website. Please note, that while potential new members can seek out letters of recommendation or reference forms, it is ultimately not the responsibility of the potential new member to obtain a copy of the letter of recommendation or reference form for the alumna or collegian writing the letter or filling out the form. If she does not have access to the magazine or her login information for the website, please encourage her to call her national sorority headquarters. In addition, the Office of Fraternity and Sorority Life at Georgia Southern University, does not have access to each individual sorority's letter of recommendation or reference form information but we can provide the addresses to send letters and how to access forms. Please see the list below. You started (and finished) your portion of the Alpha Delta Pi Foundation Scholarship application. What do you need to do next? Letters of recommendation. If you are applying for an undergraduate scholarship, you only need two. If you are applying for a graduate or continuing education scholarship, you will need three letters. Let's take a deep dive into the who, what, and how of the requirements. The Who: One letter must come from an Alpha Delta Pi alumna volunteer at the local, district, or international level. What exactly does this mean? It means your favorite advisor, your province director, your District Philanthropy Director, the president of the local ADPI alumnae association, a sister on Grand Council, a Foundation Board of Trustees member, an International Officer...any sister who serves our organization as a volunteer. Please note, this does not mean any alumna. So your big diamond cannot write your letter, a woman who wrote you a recommendation during recruitment cannot write your letter, an older sister who showed up to bring food to your chapter during Spirit Week cannot write your letter unless she fits the criteria listed above. Please make sure to specify who is writing your letter. Your other letter(s) must come from a professor who has instructed you in a classroom setting. This professor MUST also instruct you in your major or minor. So for example, if you are a PR/Communication major with minors in dance and German, your freshman biology professor cannot write your letter. However, if you are a Nursing student, your biology professor would be an ideal person to write your letter. If you have been out of school for two or more years, you can ask your supervisors at work to write your letters. People who cannot write letters for you include: professors not in your major/minor, Greek Life Advisors, Deans, Guidance Counselors, Academic Advisors, or Administrators unless they have taught you in a class in your major/minor. The What: The letter of recommendation singling you praises as a human, a sister of Alpha Delta Pi, and a scholar. This letter should be personal and should give the people reading (and scoring) your application a glimpse into what a stellar applicant you are. The letter should show us WHY you should receive a scholarship over the hundreds of other applicants. We have a lot of new Delta members apply, which is wonderful! But if you're thinking, "I don't know who I can ask..." then here is your answer. Ask someone reliable who fits the criteria mentioned above. Instead of sending them your resume, ask to meet you in person (and yes bring your resume) but tell YOUR story - who you are, why you want this scholarship, why you chose your major, why you chose ADPI, what has made you who you are today. This will allow your letter writer to craft a personal and inspiring letter on your behalf! Here is a post last year specifically for Advisors on this very topic!!! The How: Once you fill out the contact information on your application, an email will automatically generate to the person you want to write your letter. They will receive an email that looks like this... They will click the link, answer one question, and be asked to upload their letter. Once they click submit, you will be notified via email. Make sure you SUBMIT your application...as soon as all your letters are in, your application will be complete! Changes: Since your link is completely unique to your application and completely unique to where you're inputting your letter of recommendation information, changing the names and emails of the people you have requested to write your letter will confuse the system. A new link is not generated, it is the same link that was sent to the first person. This being said, please make sure you give some thought to who you want to write your letter AND make sure they can do it by the March 1st deadline the first time around. If not, you will have 2 (or more) people trying to upload their letters to the same space...as you can imagine that can get very messy very quickly. If you have any questions about this or anything scholarship related, please check out the FAQ page first! If you still have questions please contact foundation@alphadeltapi.com.
